

MAYNARD WANTS $3,000,000 MORE

Will Introduce New Jamestown Bill at Opening of Congress.

OFFICERS SEE THE PRESIDENT

Election of Successor to General Fitzhugh Lee Postponed Until Fall.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
WASHINGTON, D. C., June 7.—Representative Maynard and the principal officers of the Jamestown Exposition had a conference to-day with the President about the affairs of the enterprise. Mr. Maynard introduced to the President, C. Brooke Johnston, chairman of the board of governors of the exposition, and Barton Myers, chairman of the ways and means committee and auditor.

When General Lee was president of the exposition, he frequently consulted the President, who took a deep interest in the enterprise, and the present exposition officials desire to keep in touch with the President in like manner. The board of governors proposes to send abroad next fall a representative to exploit the exposition, and it was decided to find some one that would be acceptable abroad and to the administration. From the White House the Virginians went to the State Department.

No Election Yet.

As to the election of a president for the exposition to succeed General Lee, it was stated that nothing would be done for a month or two, as there is no immediate necessity of an election. General Lee's lack of interest in the exposition and securing appropriations for the exhibits was nearly finished when he died. No Legislatures are now in session, and it will not be necessary for the new president to take up this work until fall. It is declared that while there are a number of names talked of, there is no pronounced call for any certain person.

Representative Maynard said that he would introduce at the opening of Congress a bill providing for an appropriation of from $2,000,000 to $3,000,000 for an industrial exhibit at the exposition, an industrial exhibit of $250,000 having been made at the last session for an army and navy display. Mr. Maynard is hopeful that the wave of economy that has gripped the nation will not stand in the way of success this year.

Representative Rixey was at the White House to-day with Captain Dan Lee, of Stafford, brother of the late General Fitzhugh Lee. Mr. Rixey would not state the object of the visit, but he is understood to have asked for an appointment for Captain Lee. Somebody asked Captain Lee later if he was after a job. He laughed and replied, "I'll let you know when I get it."

Captain Lee and a number of Washington ex-Confederates conferred to-day about plans for attending the Confederate reunion at Louisville.

SSS FOR THE BLOOD

"S. S. for the blood" has grown to be a household saying. When the blood is out of order, or needs treatment from any cause, this great remedy is the first thought of and used by thousands of people all over the country, because it is superior to all other blood purifiers. It is a purely vegetable remedy, and while it penetrates the circulation and forces out all poison and morbid matter, it also builds up the entire system by its fine tonic effect. During the winter months the natural avenues of bodily waste have become dull and weak and failed to perform their full duty, the blood has been sluggish and an extra amount of poisons and waste matters have accumulated in the system and been absorbed by it. With the coming of Spring and warm weather the blood is aroused and stirred to quicker action and in its effort to throw off these acids and poisons the skin suffers. Boils, pimples, blotches, rashes and eruptions break out and continue until the blood is cleansed and all impurities, makes it rich and strong and these skin troubles pass away. Rheumatism, Catarrh, Chronic Sores and Ulcers, Scrofula, Contagious Blood Poison and all other diseases of the blood are cured by S. S. Book on the blood and any advice desired, free of charge. Society Women Implicated.

OSWEGO, N. Y., June 7.—Three persons, one of them a woman, said to be socially prominent in this city, are implicated in the plot to extort money from John Jay Tonkin, a wealthy iron manufacturer of this city. Mr. Tonkin offered a large sum for identification and arrest of the mysterious person who has written letters threatening to kidnap his daughter, Rosemond, and sent sketches depicting the dire results that would follow the neglect of the parents to give up the money demanded.

It was asserted yesterday by detectives working on the face that startling disclosures may be looked for within a few days. Evidence has been discovered of a well laid scheme to kidnap Rosemond Tonkin and harass the Tonkin family until large sums of money had been paid.

$50,000 Necklace Lost.

PHILADELPHIA, PA., June 7.—Somewhere within the hundred feet separating Thirteenth and Juniper Streets, in Walnut Street, yesterday afternoon, Mrs. Barclay H. Warburton lost or was robbed of a pearl necklace valued, it is said, at $50,000. The necklace consisted of fifty-three pearls, colored and strung on a silk cord, with a knot between each pair of pearls. It fastened at the back with a brooch clasp, set with a diamond surrounded by small pearls. Mr. Warburton is confident that the necklace became loosened and fell to the sidewalk, and that it was not stolen. He thinks that the finder will return the jewels.

Dr. Harper to Take Leave.

CHICAGO, ILL., June 7.—The news that Dr. Charles Harper, of Chicago, was leaving with his family for an indefinite absence was the cause of more rumors about the University of Chicago yesterday. The fact that Dr. Harper is going away was admitted by members of the faculty. His destination, however, is a secret and is shared by only one or two members of the faculty. Mrs. Harper with her son Donald, and probably another son, Paul, who is attending the Morgan Park Academy, will accompany Dr. Harper. It is denied that Dr. Harper has suffered a relapse.

Suicide His Heritage.

UXBRIDGE, MASS., June 7.—Following a mania for suicide which has run in the family for three generations, Fred Caswell, of this town, killed himself by cutting his throat with a razor. According to a statement made by Caswell a few days ago, not one of his family had died a natural death, and he believed none of the family ever would. His uncle, an old resident of Douglas, committed suicide a few years ago by cutting his throat, and his grandfather died by hanging himself. Caswell's act was due to despondency because of the death of his wife and son.

Returned to Life.

NEW YORK, June 7.—After having apparently been dead for two and a half hours, a man, who had been shot by a retired stockbroker, of 4 West One Hundred and Eighteenth Street, was restored to consciousness early yesterday morning long after a funeral had been held and a coffin had been lowered into the earth.

Lunskey's almost miraculous return from death's shadow has in nowise affected his spirits, and yesterday he said he believed he should live to be one hundred years old.

Mutiny on Cunard Liner.

VIENNA, June 7.—A dispatch from Flume says that there was mutiny on board the Cunard line steamer Uttonia during her voyage from New York to Europe. The mutiny broke out in consequence of a strike of firemen and coalers against working six instead of four hours on each watch. The captain ordered Austrian sailors to replace the strikers and their refusal led to a conflict with the British officers and crew, some of the Austrians trying to fire on the officers. The mutinous Austrians were imprisoned, while the officers with revolvers compelled the rest of the Austrian crew to act as strikers and firemen. The Uttonia sailed from New York May 11th, and arrived at Flume on June 4th.

Millionaire's Will Lost.

BOSTON, MASS., June 7.—Although the most painstaking search has been made, the last will of J. Montgomery Sears, Boston's largest individual taxpayer, who died last Friday, cannot be found. There is consternation in the Sears family over the legal complications which may result if the document disappears from the vast estate, variously estimated from $10,000,000 to $20,000,000.

Degree for Colonel Harvey.

CHARLESTON, S. C., June 7.—Erskine College closed its sixty-ninth year Monday and at a meeting of the Board of Trustees conferred the degree of doctor of laws upon Colonel George Harvey, editor of Harper's Weekly, New York.

The Tar Heel Daily.

GREENSBORO, N. C., June 7.—After a lengthy conference here this afternoon the directors of the Tar Heel Daily, a new newspaper, decided to purchase an outfit at once. Reports of a compromise between the warring factions and the merger of papers are not denied by the Tar Heel Daily, who refuses to talk for publication.

To the Auto's Credit.

Let it be remembered to the credit of the automobile that it smooths and improves country roads rather than injures them, and that it does very little to necessitate the cleaning of city streets. The latter fact is important, and its pecuniary significance will increase with the growth of American municipalities.—Cleveland Leader.

Too Old and Too Young.

"If I were younger," said the rich old man, "I believe I might win you for my wife." "Yes," replied the girl, "I believe I might win you for my wife," considering his sixty-five years, "or, say, fifteen years older."—Philadelphia Press.

CONTRACT NOW IN EVIDENCE

An Effort Being Made to Have Walter Declared in Contempt of Court.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 7.—After five subpoenas had been served on John H. Walter, formerly associate counsel for Baroness Von Roques, mother of Mrs. Florence Maybrick, in her suit against D. W. Armstrong and others for the recovery of certain lands in Virginia, Tennessee and elsewhere, the defense to-day succeeded in getting in evidence, several letters and a contract, by which Walter and L. D. Yarell, attorneys, undertook the prosecution of the case. By this contract the attorneys were to furnish the money required for legal work, and were to share in the proceeds of the suit in the event of a favorable decision.

The contract was before A. H. Galt, a notary public, acting under authority of the Chancery Court of Richmond, Va. The contract had been in the possession of W. Mosby Williams, attorney for Walter, but Williams declined to surrender it on the ground that it came to him in the capacity of attorney, Justice Barbour of the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia, sustained Williams' contention. Application was made by counsel for Armstrong, in which Walter was declared in contempt, by reason of his failure to respond to subpoenas issued by Notary Galt, but action was not taken when counsel stated his willingness to testify to-day.

CHURCH DEDICATED.

Dr. W. E. Hatcher Conducts Service at Bloomtown.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
HALLWOOD, ACCOMAC COUNTY, VA., June 7.—Sunday at Bloomtown, a village several miles from this place. On that day the Bloomtown Baptist Church, a new and handsome house of worship which they have just completed at a cost of nearly three thousand dollars. The day was lovely and all day service drew a great assembly.

Dr. Hatcher, of Richmond, who has within a few years dedicated at least half a dozen churches, was in the morning and at the afternoon service. The doctor is much in love with his work and always finds in warm welcome when he comes, notwithstanding he seems to be an expert in touching the pocket nerve. Several other ministers were present, among them Rev. Mr. Clements and Rev. W. S. Mondra. Rev. J. M. Copeland is the pastor of the church and delivered the invocation. The service was rendered in this enterprise of church building. Dr. Hatcher keeps the people of these parts well posted as to the claims of Richmond College and never fails to slip in a word for York Union Academy. Both of these institutions are well patronized, and the Rev. Mr. Copeland, of Onancock, is to be in Richmond next week, and expects to be with the happy possession of Richmond bride. He is a most cultivated and elegant gentleman and held in the highest esteem by the people of his community.

Rev. John K. Good, of Richmond, who is the pastor of the Baptist Church at Accotink, Va., and who is also a minister and a citizen. Rev. C. L. Corbett has established a school at Accotink, and is just closing his first session under the most cheering auspices. What he touches always moves.

AN INVESTIGATION.

Much Feeling Manifested in Rev. Mr. Ware's Charge.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
CUMMERS, VA., June 7.—A complaint of Rev. J. W. Ware against Mr. T. W. Hendricks, teacher of the public school here, was presented to-day by Mr. Hendricks to the school board. Mr. Hendricks is charged by Mr. Ware with the malicious and unjustifiable whipping of Kennard, the twelve-year-old son of Mr. Ware. To-day's session of the trial attracted a large crowd and a great feeling was manifested in the issue. Kennard Ware and a score of witnesses were examined with more to come on the morning. The outcome is looked to with the greatest interest. Mr. Hall was sent here to try the matter by the Virginia State Board of Education.

MARTIN AND MANN.

They Speak to a Large and Enthusiastic Crowd at Front Royal.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
FRONT ROYAL, VA., June 7.—Thomas S. Martin, candidate for re-election to the United States Senate, spoke to a large and enthusiastic crowd of people at Front Royal, Va., to-day. Mr. Martin was introduced to his audience by Mr. H. H. Downing, who explained in detail the theme of Mr. Martin's speech and recounted his support to Mr. Martin in championing his cause in the Legislature. Mr. Martin spoke upon the attack made upon Governor Montague, at Spotsylvania Courthouse. Mr. Martin defended his position on the matter of the railroad tariff rates as being in favor of regulating rates by a commission of nine members, one from each United States judicial circuit, and also referred to the fact that the railroad presidents were strongly opposed to his re-election. Mr. Martin was followed by Judge Wil-
